Breastmilk Bottle 5oz / 150ml

The 1st bottle designed to protect the nutrients essential to baby's health

Developed with the help of pediatricians, lactation consultants, and biomedical engineers, nanobébé breastmilk bottle is the first to prioritize preservation of the liquid within. By spreading the milk into a thin layer, the design enables both quicker cooling and warming to preserve the milk from nutrient damaging temperatures and prevents bacterial growth.

Cooling & Storing

It is beneficial to cool breast milk as quickly as possible, so that the immunological properties inside go towards baby's nutrition rather than fighting bacterial growth.

Warming

Now a parent or caregiver can warm breast milk without exposing it to nutrient damaging temperatures - and say goodbye to those pesky hot-spots.

2x Faster Warming

nanobébé breastmilk bottle warms up two times faster than standard bottles, means less late-night crying time to the delight of many sleep deprived new parents

Safe & Even Warming Means
No More Hot-Spots!

Smooth transition from breast to bottle - and back!

Easier Transitioning

Refusing to transition from breast to bottle - when provided with the foreign shape of a traditional bottle - is a point of concern for many parents upon mother's return to work or simply when she needs to be away from baby for a period of time. The bottle's shape promotes a smooth breast to bottle transition.

The "familiar" breast like shape of our bottle helps baby to instinctively connect, while faster warming satisfies immediate hunger needs. Our bottle makes it easier for moms to combine breast and bottle feeding and provides an experience second only to direct breastfeeding.

The domed shape and concave base make it ideal for tiny hands, so babies only a few months old can easily hold it, encouraging self-feeding skills. Plus, babies love holding the nanobébé bottle.
